“Meducation® Integrated with PioneerRx to Improve Medication Adherence”

Morrisville, NC (July 28, 2015) Polyglot Systems, Inc.’s Meducation® software has been integrated with the PioneerRx Pharmacy Management System to allow pharmacists to create and deliver easy-to-follow medication instruction from within their existing workflows. The joint offering overcomes a problem that has long plagued pharmacists and their patients; confusing medication instructions that undermine proper medication use.

Standard medication instructions are often written at elevated reading levels, printed in small font sizes and available only in English. Since nearly one out of every three Americans struggles to understand medical information to such an extent that they are deemed “low health literate,” this contributes to the widespread problem of poor medication adherence.

Meducation counters the adverse effect low health literacy has on proper medication adherence by enabling the generation of medication instructions that:

- Are tailored to the patient with his or her unique instructions,
- Are written at a 5th-to 8th grade reading level,
- Are available in any of 22 different languages,
- Use pictures to convey information clearly, and
- Are augmented by video demonstrations of proper use for certain devices

“Poor medication adherence hurts patients’ health and increases costs” said Sims Preston, Polyglot CEO. “Meducation improves patient health while at the same time improving our customers’ bottom lines. We are thrilled that PioneerRx has recognized this value and has worked with us to enable this integration.”
